

ST. PETER CHRISTIAN COLLEGE CONSTRUCTION PROJECT

"Inclusive, good-quality education is a foundation for dynamic and equitable societies."

- DESMOND TUTU

St Peter Christian College's statement of its academic principles demonstrates that it is developing a generation of students who will help make Bishop Tutu's vision a reality:

We focus on personal achievement within an environment that balances high academic standards with sport, music, culture and the development of each child as an individual.

A clearly defined value system – comprised of respect for each individual, courtesy, honesty and open communication – underpins our ethos.

CREATING OPPORTUNITY

Our mission:

To bring people in Africa to a Christ-centered life through education, job creation, health programs, orphan care and housing.

St. Peter Christian College is a private K-12 school. Located in Mhluzi, Middelburg, South Africa, the school has grown from a lower grade school when it opened in 2011 by the nearby St. Peter Confessional Lutheran Church, to now preparing 600 students for university or post-education careers. COFA has played a major role in that development and is currently funding improvements and expansion of the school campus. This drawing shows the stages of construction and financial needs to complete planned projects.
